Preface

Both of us have been adjuncts, and one of us is an expert in evaluating adjuncts. We have written this book.

Dr. Virginia Bianco-Miller suggested that we apply the Washington Metropolitan Area University's evaluation model to our own practice. We have included material from area universities and have conducted two site visits for adjuncts, and we have based our work on the results of the University of Maryland's Adjunct Faculty Development Program.

NOTE: The Development of the Adjunct Faculty Program is a joint effort by the University of Maryland and the Washington Metropolitan Area University.
