

CONTENTS

The Author xv Preface xvii
Part One LAYING THE GROUNDWORK FOR STUDENT LEARNING 1
1 Understanding Your Students and How They Learn 3 Your Undergraduate Student Body Profile How People Learn How Structure Increases Learning The Cognitive Development of Undergraduates Encouraging Cognitive Growth Teaching the Millennial Generation The Adult Learner Inclusive Instructing The Challenge	Designing the Learning Process Helpful Frameworks for Designing a Course Showing Students Their Learning Process Outcomes-Centered Course Development
2 Outcomes-Centered Course Design 17 Why Outcomes-Centered Course Design? Writing Outcomes Types of Learning Outcomes Types of Cognitive Outcomes	3 The Complete Syllabus 33 Appropriate Syllabus Items The Graphic Syllabus The Online "Living Syllabus" Getting Students to Read Your Syllabus The Evolving Syllabus 4 Your First Day of Class 43 Before the First Class First Impressions Exchanging Information Social Icebreakers: Getting to Know You Subject Matter Icebreakers Drawing Class to a Close 5 Motivating Your Students 51 What We Know About Motivation in Learning Credible Theories of Motivation Strategies for Motivating Students Equity in the Classroom

■ Part Two
MANAGING YOUR COURSES		61
6	Copyright Guidelines for Instructors	63
	Where Copyright Does and Does Not Apply
	Common Copyright Misconceptions
	Free Use: Fair Use, Facts, and Public Domain
	Printed Text
	Visual Materials
	In-Class Performances
	Recording Broadcast Programming
	Online/Electronic Materials and Distance Learning
	Obtaining Permission or a License
	How Copyright Violations Are Actually Handled
	For Further and Future Reference
7	Preventing and Responding to Classroom Incivility	71
	What Is Incivility?
	Why the Increase?
	Preventing Incivility: Your Classroom Persona
	Responding to Incivility
	Seeking Assistance
8	Preserving Academic Integrity	83
	How Prevalent Is Cheating?
	Who Cheats, and Why?
	Detecting Cheating
	Preventing Cheating
	Honor Codes
	Changing Student Values
9	Making the Most of Office Hours	89
	Getting Students to See You
	Making the Time Productive
	Student-Active Tutoring
	Students in Academic or Emotional Trouble
10	Course Coordination Between Faculty and Teaching Assistants	95
	Before the Term: Course Review and Role Specifications
	During the Term: Regular Meetings and Teaching Feedback
	Extending Managing to Mentoring
■ Part Three
CHOOSING AND USING THE RIGHT TOOLS FOR TEACHING AND LEARNING		101
11	Matching Teaching Methods with Learning Outcomes	103
	Types of Tools
	Dangerous Knowledge?
12	Making the Lecture a Learning Experience	113
	Purpose: To Lecture or Not to Lecture?
	Preparing an Effective Lecture
	Delivering an Effective Lecture
	Incorporating Student-Active Breaks: The Interactive Lecture
	Teaching Students to Take Good Notes
	Making the Lecture Effective for Everyone
13	Leading Effective Discussions	127
	When to Choose Discussion
	How to Set the Stage for Discussion
	How to Maximize Participation Through Skillful Discussion Management
14	Questioning Techniques for Discussion and Assessment	137
	Questioning as a Process of Inquiry
	Typologies of Good Discussion Questions
	Poor Questions for Discussion Purposes
	Turning the Tables

- | | |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 15 Experiential Learning Activities 145 Student Presentation Formats Role Playing Simulations and Games Service-Learning: The Real Thing | 19 The Case Method 181 The Effectiveness of the Case Method The Appropriate Subject Matter What Makes a Good Case Types of Cases Debriefing Cases A Postscript for Pioneers |
| 16 Learning in Groups 155 A Group by Any Other Name... The Case for Group Work Changing Methods, Changing Roles The Setup and Management of Student Groups Management Tips Tried-and-True Group Learning Strategies Preparing Students for Life | 20 Problem-Based Learning 187 How PBL Works Good PBL Problems and Where to Find Them The Effectiveness of PBL What Students Think Kudos for Creativity |
| 17 Writing-to-Learn Activities and Assignments 167 Freewrites The One-Minute Paper Journals One-Sentence Summaries Learning Logs Dialectical Notes Directed Paraphrasing Letters, Memos, Notes, and Electronic Posts Mock Tests Drafts for Peer Feedback Multiple Purposes | 21 Quantitative Reasoning and Problem Solving 193 Understanding Students' Problems with Problems Modeling Expert Reasoning Teaching the Steps of Problem Solving Tutoring Students out of Bad Habits Routinizing Peer Feedback Making Problems More Real and Challenging Using the Power of Group Learning Accommodating New Methods to Traditional Settings |
| ■ Part Four MORE TOOLS: TEACHING REAL-WORLD PROBLEM SOLVING 173 | 22 Problem Solving in the Sciences 199 Where Science Education Falls Short How to Help Students Learn Science: General Advice How the Lecture Can Be Made into a Meaningful Learning Experience How the Lab Can Be Made into a Meaningful Learning Experience The Essentials of Lab Safety and Management Why Science Education Is So Important |
| 18 Inquiry-Guided Learning 175 Definitions of Inquiry-Guided Learning The Effectiveness of Inquiry-Guided Learning Objects and Modes of Inquiry Variations of Inquiry-Based Learning | |

- Part Five
MAKING LEARNING
EASIER 209
- 23 Getting Students to Do the Readings 211
Why Students Don't Do the Readings
How We Can Equip and Induce Students to Do the Readings
Specific Tools for Holding Students
Accountable
Managing Your Workload
- 24 Teaching Your Students to Think and
Write in Your Discipline 223
Cross-Disciplinary Commonalities
Teaching Critical Thinking Through the Discipline's Metacognitive Model
Metacognitive Differences Among Disciplines
Making Students Better Thinkers and Writers
Teaching Students to Write for Their Futures
The Many Worlds of Writing
- 25 Accommodating Different Learning
Styles 229
Kolb's Learning Styles Model and Experiential Learning Theory
Fleming and Mills's Sensory-Based Learning Style Typology
Felder and Silverman's Index of Learning Styles
Parallels Across Learning Style Models
Multisensory, Multimethod Teaching: Most Effective for All
- 26 Using Visuals to Teach 239
Ways That Visuals Enhance Learning
Types of Visuals for Learning
The Future of Visuals in Teaching and Learning
- 27 Using Instructional Technology Wisely 253
Reliable Low-Tech Tools for the Classroom
The Choice of High-Tech Alternatives
Learning Management Systems
Lecture-Related Software
Web Resources
Laptops in the Wireless Classroom
Web 2.0 Tools
Looking Ahead
- Part Six
ASSESSING LEARNING
OUTCOMES 271
- 28 Assessing Student Learning in Progress 273
Classroom Assessment Techniques
Formative Feedback
Student Portfolios
Extending Classroom Assessment to Classroom Research and the Scholarship of Teaching and Learning
- 29 Constructing Summative Assessments 281
General Testing Guidelines
Objective Test Items
Constructed Response Instruments: Essay
Questions and Writing Assignments
Tests and Assignments: The Ultimate
Teaching Evaluations
- 30 Preparing Students for Tests 295
Test Preparation Measures
Anxiety-Reduction Measures
What the Effort Is Worth
- 31 Grading Summative Assessments 301
The Meaning of Grades
Summative Assessments and Grading
Systems
The Qualities of a Sound Grading System
Grading Constructed Responses and Papers

Grading Lab Reports		Student Evaluations
How to Grade Mechanics Quickly While Ensuring Students Learn Them		Peer, Administrative, and Self-Evaluations
Outcome-Based Grading		Documenting Your Effectiveness
Returning Students' Work		Comprehensive Approaches to Faculty Evaluation
Helping Students Use Your Feedback to Improve		Complex Beyond Measure
The Real Meaning and Limits of Grades
32 Evaluating and Documenting Teaching Effectiveness	315	Appendix: Instructional Support and Resources at Your Institution	329
Defining and Measuring Teaching Effectiveness		References	335
		Index	367